Grooming Instruction Program
Homework Assignments: Introduction

“Determination, effort and practice are rewarded with success.”
– Mary Lydon Simonsen, Author

Grooming Instruction Program (GIP) homework assignments give students an opportunity to incorporate the information they’ve learned by practicing specific skills that test their knowledge and understanding of pet grooming basics. In addition to the online curriculum (also known as “written stages”), ABC requires all students complete each mandatory homework assignment. These assignments allow Program Managers (PMs) to assess each student’s progress and offer assistance for the purpose of preparing students for their Externship, Stage 10. With this in mind, please remember:

□ Each written stage and its accompanying homework assignment will build upon the previous Stage and homework assignment. In other words, some of the essay questions will require you to describe the previously assigned homework in your answer.

□ Homework reports that instruct students to watch DVDs also requires that each student provide a full detailed written summary (more about this later) of tasks covered in that particular assignment.

□ For the hands-on report, students must include a detailed description of all tasks performed and the reasons, as well as specific tools used and why they were chosen.

□ Students must upload both before and after pictures for all hands-on homework assignments to their Weebly portfolio and inform their PM once completed. A separate handout will be provided on how to create your Weebly portfolio webpage.

□ Please don’t jump ahead and do a homework assignment before the written Stage portion is completed.

□ Be careful to not fall behind. It’s important to complete homework assignments on time. However, if you miss any assigned homework due dates, you will have another opportunity to submit missing assignments with your Stage 9 examination. All homework must be completed and submitted before you may advance to Stage 10, the Externship.

□ Start handling your tools early and do so frequently. You should be able to identify all tools (names) and their functions before you start your Externship.
Your Questions/Notes:
Homework Assignments per Stage

As mentioned previously, homework assignments should be done upon completion of your written Stages. Listed below are all homework assignments for each Stage. Please carefully read the directions for each assignment and contact your PM if you have questions

Homework Assignment for Stage 3: Planning

The purpose of this assignment is to help you begin planning for your future homework assignments.

Begin by doing the following:

☐ Determine the pet(s) you plan to use for practice (also known as "practice pet"). Suggestions for practice pets include your own dog, a family member’s dog; a neighbor’s dog, a friend’s dog, a dog from a shelter, etc. (If you’re still unsure, contact your PM for more suggestions).

☐ Before deciding on a practice pet, please consider the following:

Accessibility - If you are not the pet’s owner, make sure you talk to the owner in advance about your plans to use their pet(s) for multiple upcoming assignments. If you plan to use multiple pets from different owners, discuss your plans with them, too. By doing so, you are setting expectations upfront, which helps to eliminate any confusion and misunderstandings.

You will receive several upcoming assignments and may choose to use one pet for all of them or multiple pets. Do keep in mind ABC requires that at least one of your practice pets have a coat that requires a basic clip. Some examples of common breeds with hair are the Yorkshire Terrier, Shih Tzu, Maltese and Bichon Frise. If you’re still unsure which pets require clipping, contact your PM for help.

Items needed: List of potential practice pets – you may be asked to submit your list directly to your PM at Stage 5 to ensure you’ve chosen the correct breeds.

Your Questions/Notes:
Homework Assignment to accompany Stage 5: Practice – Nails & Ears

The purpose of this assignment is to practice nail clipping and ear cleaning basics on your practice pet.

It's normal to feel apprehensive and a little nervous about clipping nails for the first time. Keep in mind that the more you practice a technique, the better you will be at successfully performing that task. Before you start your practice, be sure to review the steps outlined in your Stage 5 study guide.

☐ If you’re feeling uncomfortable about clipping your practice pet’s nails, practice using a wooden pencil. Practicing with a pencil helps you get a feel for the amount of pressure needed to cut through the nail without worrying about cutting the dog’s quick (blood supply). This exercise also helps to build your confidence before trimming real nails.

☐ Once you feel you’ve practiced enough with a pencil, clip your practice pet’s nails.

☐ Practice cleaning your practice pet’s ears and removing ear hair (if your practice pet’s breed requires it).

☐ Write a full summary (at minimum, two paragraphs or about half a page) of the two tasks you’ve just completed and answer these questions in the summary:
  -- Why should pet owners’ have their dogs’ nails clipped?
  -- What are the names of the tools you used to clip your pet’s nails?
  -- Why should ear hair be removed on some breeds?
  -- Describe your overall experience:
    Were there challenges? How did you overcome them? Were you surprised at how easy/hard a task was to achieve? Why? What was your level of confidence before you started and after you completed the task?
